

Rangewide Conservation Planning for Cheetahs and African Wild Dogs

Southern Africa Regional Workshop – Jwana Game Park, 4-8th December 2007

The year for cheetah conservation began and ended working towards developing a strategic plan in eastern and southern African range countries. In December, 38 southern African and international cheetah and wild dog specialist met in Botswana to develop a regional strategy. The strategy encourages the incorporation of cheetah and wild dog conservation requirements into land use planning, human wildlife conflict resolution strategies to be implemented regionally, and the development of training and capacity building programs which can be adopted and implemented by southern African range countries.

The meeting was organized by Sarah Durant and Rosie Woodroffe from WCS/ZSL in collaboration with the IUCN/SSC Cat Specialist Group and Canid Specialist Group.
